D.O. No. 21/04/2014-NIAW/17

Dated the, 27 February 2015

Dear Mrs. Mudgal,

Inviting your very kind attention to our yester letter No. -ibid- dated 8th May 2014, it is again reiterated that training programme for Pharma Students from Pharmacy Colleges are conducted at National Institute of Animal Welfare. During this programme the students are exposed to various aspects of Animal Welfare, Cruelty to Animals, various rules and guidelines in force in pursuance to the PCA Act 1960, formation, functions as well schemes of the Animal Welfare Board of India, Committee for the Purpose of Control & Supervision of Experiments on Animals (CPCSEA), through elite speakers of eminence in their field of expertise. The training programme is not only intended for skill development but also will improve the quality of research work while ethically using whole or part of animal in their respective field of experimentation.

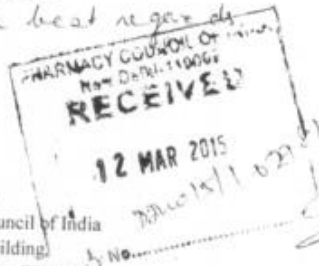

The two weeks training programme which is with free boarding and lodging, however with nominal registration of Rs. 100.00 per candidate is a serious effort by dedicated scientists/ faculties which culminates with evaluation of the students. The successful students are awarded with certificates which will not only improve their employability but also make them a responsible citizen as required under 51A(g) of the Constitution of India.

The National Institute of Animal Welfare is a subordinate office of Ministry of Environment, Forests & Climate Change, has the mandate to propagate the PCA Act of 1960 to create an enabling society for the protection and preservation animal welfare in all walks of life, I have the pleasure to request you to kindly give wide circulation among different Pharmacy Colleges counselling them to come forward to nominate their Internship students for the said training programme by booking their preferred slot in advance.

Since Sri S. Gowri Shankar, Deputy Secretary, has taken over as Director of NIAW, your this kind act will go a long way to pave the implementation of PCA Act 1960 and also safeguarding the interest of animals in society. Although there has been scanty response to our earlier letter, your direction will encourage all colleges to come forward and oblige.

Thanking you,

With best regards

Yours sincerely,
